THIS SESSION CONGRESS ACTIVE

Much General Legislation Is Enacted and Interest Is Greater Than Usual

DIFFERENCES TIE UP BILLS

Important Questions Will Be Laid Aside for An Adjournment This Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Congress is about to terminate a session that is now run more than 250 days. The session has not been fruitful of much general legislation, but from the standpoint of special issues fought out and great policies outlined it has been of more than usual interest.

Political activities have helped to prolong it, and political differences between the house and senate, the one Democratic and the other controlled by an independent element of the Republican party, have served to tie up appropriation bills and impede much general legislation.

Many annual appropriation bills that should have become effective July 1, still are at issue between the two houses. Minor legislation and important questions of general interest are being laid aside in an effort to bring about adjournment by next Saturday, or at the latest by the end of the following week.

Important Developments.
The more important developments that have marked the session are:

The decision of the senate that William Lorimer had not legally been elected senator from Illinois.

The beginning of impeachment proceedings against Judge Robert W. Archibald of the Commerce court.

Abrogation of the Russian treaty following agitation over the Jewish passport question.

Substantial defeat by amendment of President Taft's arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France.

Vote of the senate to foreign nations that the United States will permit them to acquire naval or military bases in the western hemisphere.

Approval of a constitutional amendment for direct election of senators.

Decision of both houses in favor of free passage for American ships at Panama, in face of Great Britain's protest that this would be a violation of treaty rights.

Admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood.

Veto by President Taft of tariff bills passed by Democratic-Progressive alliance.

Creation of a children's bureau in the department of commerce and labor.

Increase of civil war pensions through the Sherwood service pension law.

Questions Still Unsettled.
Important questions remaining to be settled between the two houses or between congress and the president are:

Proposed abolition of the tariff commission and the commerce court.

Reorganization plans for the army, partly rejected by the president, when he vetoed the army appropriation bill.

Establishment of a parole board.

Restriction of civil service employees to seven-year terms.

Details of the Panama canal administration.

Creation of a federal department of labor.

GOV. JOHNSON HOME; MAKES 2 SPEECHES

Large Crowds in Two Cities Give Him Enthusiastic Demonstrations

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 11.—Governor Hiram Johnson, candidate of the Progressive party for the office of vice president of the United States, arrived today direct from Chicago. He stopped at Sacramento, the capital of the state, only 10 minutes, where he made an address to a crowd assembled at the railroad station to welcome him. In his talk he said that he had been drafted into the ranks of the fighters for the cause which the third party represents, and that he was ready to do his duty. He announced that he would resign as governor of California.

At the Ferry building here, he was met by Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Johnson, Jr., Archie Johnson, his son, and Alexander McCabe, his private secretary. He went to his home and will remain there until tomorrow night, when he will give a public reception by adherents of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican league. He will leave Tuesday morning for Sacramento, to remain two weeks, during which time he will attend to work in the governor's office. Then he will return east to begin his speech-making tour.

TALKS IN SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 11.—Governor Hiram Johnson, running mate of Theodore Roosevelt on the Progressive ticket, was given an enthusiastic demonstration at the depot today, en route to San Francisco, on his return from the Chicago convention.

The governor responded to the cheers of his friends by mounting a baggage truck and delivering a short speech. He said that when he left Sacramento 10 days ago he had not the slightest intention of returning home as a vice-presidential candidate, but that, insomuch as he had been honored by his party with that distinction, he intended to give the best in him to the cause of progressive government.

"This campaign is no longer a sham battle between the parties," said the governor. "We are in the midst of a political revolution, and the eyes of the people are opened. It is the desire of the party to make the country a better place to live, to remedy old wrongs and bring about the right of the people to govern."

"What we have accomplished in California is now going on in all the other states. New ideas of popular government are being born, and a new era of progressivism is about to dawn. There is nothing for the people to do but to ally themselves with the cause that advocates their interests."

No Clue Murderer of Denver Teacher

DENVER, Aug. 11.—The "Jack the Ripper" who, after assaulting Miss Signy A. Carlson on Friday night, fearfully murdered the young music teacher, dragged her body into a clump of weeds beside the road, then mutilated the body with a pocketknife, is still at large. Although the coroner's inquest was undoubtedly conducted with blood and the police believe he was well acquainted with that section of Denver in which the crime was committed, Chief of Police Felix O'Neill and his strengthened corps of detectives have not found the slightest clue which might lead to the identity of Miss Carlson's murderer.

If the effort to locate a man who has been stabbed with a batpin is successful, Chief O'Neill believes it will be the man sought. When Miss Carlson's body was found, a batpin was gasped tightly in her right hand. The point was broken off, and it is believed she used the pin as her best weapon of defense, and succeeded in stabbing her assailant with it.

Miss Carlson was large of stature and strong, and the officers are sure that in the struggle she managed to leave several marks on the man who attacked her.

As a result of the police dragnet, which has been thoroughly established in Denver and surrounding suburban villages since the murder of Miss Carlson, 10 men were taken to police headquarters tonight pending investigation.

An effort will be made to identify one of these men as the one who accosted Olga Kaiser, aged 12, near the scene of the murder early on the night Miss Carlson was murdered.

The girl ran to her home near by and told her father that a man, who she thought to be a peddler, had attempted to stop her in the street. She will face the 10 men tomorrow morning and attempt to identify one of them.

WELL KNOWN POLITICIAN OF COLORADO KILLS SELF

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Aug. 11.—Louis P. Miller, aged 48, wealthy resident of this city, shot himself through the head yesterday afternoon with a revolver, and his aged mother, who found the body near his home here today, is unconscious from the shock of her son's death and is not expected to recover.

Mr. Miller was closely identified with the early development of Steamboat Springs, and was well known as a Republican politician in this state. He had been ill for some time, and left a note addressed to Dr. H. C. Dodge, a lifelong friend, in which he wrote that he was tired of it all, and had decided to kill himself. Mr. Miller had for years been killed by her son here for years.

Senor Diddapp Exonerates Senator Fall

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Both Senator Fall of New Mexico and Senor Diddapp, Washington representative of the Mexican revolutionary party, countered today declaration attributing to the senator the Mexican government's failure to come to peace terms with General Orozco, the rebel leader.

"I thought some time ago that I might want to see Orozco to ascertain his authority for certain statements," said Senor Diddapp. "But I have had absolutely no communication with him. Orozco declared that certain Americans had been putting up money to Madere and gave names and other details. I wanted to find out what information he might have as authority for these statements and so telegraphed to the mayor of El Paso. But nothing came of it. I have had absolutely nothing whatever to do with Orozco."

Senor Diddapp said he had been instructed to state that the Madere government made the first demand for peace to General Zapata, August 3, and sent a cabinet minister to propose peace to the chiefs operating in the north. Diddapp contended that the failure was due, not to Senator Fall, but, so far as Zapata was concerned, to lack of official instructions to the Madere commissioners and their insistence on ignoring the civilians composing the revolutionary committee.

LIQUOR QUESTION SHOULDN'T BE PART OF PROGRAM--WILSON

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 11.—Governor Wilson indirectly took a hand today in the political situation in Maine, where the gubernatorial election in September is expected to reveal the trend of strength of the three presidential nominees.

In response to numerous letters from Democratic leaders in Maine, asking Governor Wilson for his attitude on the liquor question, which is a prominent issue in the gubernatorial campaign, Governor Wilson has declared in favor of local option and against having the question made an issue between political parties. The governor's views originally were communicated to the Rev. Thomas H. Stannard of New York, N. J., as bearing on the issue in New Jersey, but Governor Wilson now is sending it through Maine, a copy of the same letter, which says:

"I am in favor of local option. I am through believing in local self-government, and believe that every self-governing community, when constituted, a social unit, should have the right to control the matter of the regulation or of the withholding of licenses."

"Shouldn't Be Part Program."
"But when the questions involved are social and moral, they are not susceptible of being made parts of a party program. Whenever they have been made the subject matter of party contests they have cut the lines of party organization and party action, thereby to the utter confusion of political action in every other field. They have thrown every other question, however important, into the background, and have made constructive party action impossible for long years together. So far as I, myself, am concerned, therefore, I can never consent to have the question of local option made an issue between political parties in this state. My judgment is very clear in this matter. I do not believe that party programs of the highest consequence to the political life of the state and of the nation ought to be thrust on one side and hopelessly embarrassed for long periods together by making a political issue of a great question which is essentially nonpolitical, nonpartisan, moral and social in its nature."

'REDS' AND 'BLUES' WILL SOON ENGAGE

Army Maneuvers in California Are Affording Much Benefit to Soldiers

POYOTE, CAL., Aug. 11.—Headquarters Gen. Walter S. Sweeney, supervising general, the Red army of invasion, supplemented by the arrival of the "Blue" troops, centered itself on three objects today, and did very well with all of them. The first was to carry two battalions of the Twelfth United States Infantry, which under Col. W. H. Brown, advanced Monterey yesterday, and are taking their last to join the Blue army of defense coming down from San Francisco. Cavalry of the "Blues" chased these men out of the gulch, some 20 miles from Monterey, at daylight, today, and kept them on the run all day long.

The main army was busy establishing a base at El Toro ranch, near Monterey. This is deemed necessary before the real northward march can be undertaken, and all day today, cavalry rode up and down the Salinas valley, theoretically heading off much wagon, whose owners were trying to escape the country. The third object was to communicate with the army, which rode up railway lines, blowing up bridges and cutting telegraph wires. Tonight no communication exists, theoretically, between the Salinas valley and the outside world, except the military telegraph. This exclusion works both ways, for the "Blues" believe that the "Red" defenders already are half way to meet them, while in reality they are just getting into the field in San Francisco.

The Utah troops—five companies of infantry, a battery of field artillery and a signal corps company—reported to Brig. Gen. Robert Wankowski, today, a report that they were to fight the defenders proving erroneous. Adjutant General Edgewood of Utah accompanied the troops as an observer.

MEYER IN NEWPORT

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11.—Secretary of the Navy George Meyer arrived here today on the dispatch boat Dolphin from his summer home in Hamilton, Mass., where he has been recuperating from an attack of typhoid fever. The secretary planned to leave later for Washington to resume his duties.

FIGHTS START AGAIN

CETTINJE, Montenegro, Aug. 11.—Fierce fighting between Turks and Montenegrins recommenced today when reinforcements reached the Turkish fortified posts on the eastern frontier.

BELIEVE 1,000 LOST LIVES IN TURKEY'S DISASTROUS QUAKE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—The interruption of telegraphic communication makes it difficult to obtain accurate details of the disastrous seismic disturbance which occurred August 9 on both sides of the Bosphorus.

No accurate figures of the number of victims can yet be tabulated, though some estimates place the death list at 1,000 and the injured at from 5,000 to 6,000.

In the town of Sharr-Koy, which was completely destroyed, 60 persons were killed and 150 injured. Fires are reported from many cities, in which numerous buildings were burned.

Flames opened to a length of about a mile along the river Lule-Burgaz, 10 miles southeast of Adraman, and from these operations hot water, sand, loam and sulphurous vapors were emitted.

Everywhere in the stricken zone there is terrible want and distress. Appeals for doctors and help are constantly being received at the capital, and the government is doing its utmost to satisfy them. The hospitals here are crowded.

The Valt of Adraman today reported to Constantinople that the loss of life there was small. The quake seriously damaged the public buildings of the city.

300 AMERICAN REFUGEES REACH BORDER IN SAFETY

EL PASO, Aug. 11.—Word was received in El Paso today that the 300 American men who have been traveling overland for the last week from the Mormon colonies in the Casas Grandes district arrived safely at Hacienda N. M. The arrival at the border of this group brings out practically all the American settlers in the Casas Grandes district. Men of Colonia Morelos, south of Douglas, Ariz., however, have decided to remain and, if necessary, fight for their homes.

The party arriving early today at Hacienda Morelos consists of the Juarez, Doblan, Garcia and Pacheco colonies, from which settlements of women and children are sent here fortnightly ago. On receipt of a message of Juarez Romaney, president of the Mormon colonies in Mexico, A. W. Evans, a church apostle from Salt Lake City, set out from El Paso to meet the refugees. A recent national appropriation makes immediate funds adequate for the relief of the refugees.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 11.—Zapata, Carranza, under General Genovevo Delgado and Joaquin Miranda, are closing in on Toluca, the capital of the state of Mexico, according to reports of passengers who reached here today. A band of bandits is reported near Toluca, between Toluca and Mexico, and it is feared the railroad may be cut.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY'S OPINION OF MOOSERS AMUSES ROOSEVELT

WILL LAY STRESS ON THE PARTY'S PRINCIPLES

Action of Members of Ohio Central Committee Pleases the Big Bull Moose

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 11.—"At last I can sleep a night," said Colonel Roosevelt laughingly when told today that the plan for having William J. Bryan follow him to the country and then to his speeches had been abandoned.

The colonel said he was amused at the decision of the Democratic opponents that the Progressive ticket was not a menace to them and that it would not be worth while to have Mr. Bryan spend his time in this way. "Isn't that perfectly logical," he exclaimed.

It is Colonel Roosevelt's purpose to make a positive fight for the Progressive platform and ticket rather than against the Republican and Democratic candidates. In the opening speeches of his campaign he plans to lay chief emphasis upon what the Progressive party proposes to do rather than to assail his opponents. By making positive rather than negative arguments, Colonel Roosevelt hopes to place the other candidates on the defensive.

Colonel Roosevelt was pleased at the turn taken in Ohio yesterday when Walter E. Brown and other Roosevelt members of the state committee resigned to put a Progressive ticket in the field.

"It is very gratifying to me," he said, "it means a straight out fight in Ohio, as in a number of other states like New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Massachusetts."

The colonel was reticent in regard to the situation in the halfway of his son-in-law, Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

It is reported that Dr. A. O. Zwick of Cincinnati will run for congress on the Progressive ticket against Mr. Longworth, he was told.

"So I hear," the colonel replied. "I have nothing to say."

Inventor May Die As Result of Explosion

DENVER, Aug. 11.—J. L. Mitchell, aged 67, an inventor of illuminating gas for automobiles, was killed today by an explosion of a blow lamp which had been placed near the tank. The explosion was ignited from the torch and a tremendous explosion followed, which almost completely wrecked two automobiles and blew the roof partly off the building. The timbers fell upon Mitchell, but he managed to crawl out to the street, and into a neighboring building, where he removed his clothes, and gave instructions to have his body buried in it. Then he became unconscious and was taken to a hospital.

FEDERALS ARE DOUBTFUL ABOUT PEACE OVERTURES

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11.—Official Mexico appeared today to regard with much pessimism the outlook for peace. Attempts probably will be made to reopen negotiations with General Orozco, but it is generally believed the rebel leader in the north will resist overtures by the government. He was reported, in a special telegram to Mr. Durio, as having refused to meet General Huerta at a point south of Juarez, and there surrender, adding that he would lead his forces into the capital itself within a month.

The newspaper, El Pais, prints a statement asserting that the American government had served notice on Mexico that peace must be restored at an early date. No confirmation of this assertion could be secured.

First Open Forum in Springs to Be Held Next Sunday Night

The movement to establish an Open Forum in Colorado Springs, where local and national questions may be discussed in a nonpartisan and democratic manner, has finally been developed to a point where regular meetings can be held. The first of these meetings will come next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Odeon theater, on Nevada avenue, just south of the postoffice, and from then on meetings probably will be held twice a month.

The first speaker before the Open Forum will be Prof. Lorán D. O. O. born of the department of sociology at the State university, Boulder, who will take as his subject, "The Struggle for Industrial Democracy." The meetings of the Open Forum will differ from most public gatherings in which addresses are delivered in that members of the audience will have an opportunity to question the speaker after he has finished his set address, and to express their own opinions freely.

More Benefit Than Usual.
These meetings are of the movement hope this to furnish many points of

OROZCO DENIES ALL REPORTS OF PEACE

JUAREZ, Aug. 11.—Reports from Washington, D. C., that the Mexican rebels again have opened negotiations with Senor Salero, the Mexican ambassador, caused great surprise here today. General Pascual Orozco not only continues his denial that he has made any peace overtures to the federal government, but asserts that the revolutionary party has no representative in Washington with whom a treaty could be negotiated.

Juan Pedro Diddapp, whom Washington advisers say opened the negotiations, is known as a Vasquista, but is denied at rebel headquarters he has ever been connected in any way with the present revolutionary party.

It is officially announced that the rebels now fighting in northern Mexico have no representative in Washington, because they are not recognized by the United States government, and that anyone so representing himself is an impostor.

It is asserted that the federal government is attempting to draw attention from the recent visit in El Paso of Francisco Hernandez and who at last attempted conference with General Orozco at the international line, a few miles west of the border.

This is all that has occurred in the way of negotiations, it is said.

MRS. ELLA CELESTE ADAMS

called yesterday morning. Her death, it is believed, occurred about 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Although suffering from a cold, Mrs. Adams was at the Gazette office Friday and Saturday. Saturday evening neighbors saw her on the porch at her home, and two persons, who dropped in to see her for a few minutes, said yesterday she was apparently feeling well, with the exception of a cold.

Mrs. Adams lived alone in her rustic home, which accounts for the fact that her death was not known until yesterday morning. Dr. Faust called about 11 o'clock, but received no answer when he knocked. The door was not locked and he entered. Mrs. Adams was sitting in a dressing gown and apparently had lain down for a moment's rest before retiring. For the night, Dr. Faust notified the coroner and the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Fairleys & Law.

In accordance with Mrs. Adams' wish, expressed in a note written many months ago and left in her writing desk, the funeral will be held from her home here, and the body will be buried in Riverside cemetery, Denver, beside those of her mother and daughter. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made, however, pending the opening of her safety deposit box at the First National bank today.

Mrs. Adams was about 56 years old and was the widow of Dr. Clifford D. Adams, a prominent physician, who died years ago. Her infant daughter, also her mother, Mrs. A. C. Adams, who died here in March, 1906, were both

IMMIS SESSION

Tribunal disaster and many other subjects. Few investigations have resulted in new laws.

Inquiry into campaign expenditures has resulted in the perfection of a campaign publicity bill that probably will be passed next winter. Legislation for a single six-year term for president and vice president is expected to result in favorable action next session, on a constitutional amendment.

New investigations have been started into the "money trusts," the alleged financing of Cuban and Mexican insurrections by Americans, the damages sustained by Americans in the Mexican revolution and expenditures of the forest service. An investigation of the judicial and private acts of Judge Hanford of Seattle, instituted by the house, was followed by the jurist's resignation.

Some New Laws

Some of the important new laws that have resulted from the work of the session are:

Abolition by high taxation of the manufacture of white phosphorus matches.

Eight-hour federal labor law.

Prohibition against exportation of arms, coal or supplies to insurrectionists in other countries.

Granting commissions as ensigns to midshipmen on graduation from naval academy.

Barring prize fight picture films from transportation if they are to be used for public exhibition.

Requiring that wireless operators be constantly on duty on ocean-going vessels.

Encouraging invention and original research in the agricultural and army ordinance divisions by giving cash rewards to employees.

Equipment of army transports with adequate life-saving apparatus.

Uniform wireless law to prevent interference by amateurs.

Many Bills Vetoed

The session has been prolific of vetoes by President Taft.

Since its beginning, last December, he has written his disapproval across the face of seven bills passed by congress. One of these, the "Corbett-Tamm bill," was repassed over his veto this week.

Other measures, including the steel and iron tariff and the appropriation bill fixing a limitation of seven years for civil service terms.

The senate has nullified nine treaties during the session, including those with France and Great Britain, which the president refused to accept in amended form, and the following:

Settlement of boundary claims between the United States and Great Britain; agreement of international naval conference on war prizes; commerce treaty with Hungary; North Atlantic fisheries treaty with Great Britain; neutralizing treaty with Costa Rica; international wireless telegraphy treaty; international treaty on assistance and salvage at sea.

WOODS BEATS QUEAL IN 10-MILE RACE

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 11.—In the 10-mile race over the four and a half mile under track in the Valley Forge stadium today, A. E. Woods, of England, defeated Billy Quaal of Alexandria, Va., N. Y., by two laps. The winner's time was 56 minutes 11 1/2 seconds.

Two Horses, Which Caused Big Rumpus, Again on U. S. Soil

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 11.—Grazing on their native American pasture are two horses, the innocent cause of an almost international difficulty, the movement of United States troops, the calling out of a sheriff's posse, and a rumpus which extended along the Texas-Mexican boundary for 30 miles. The rumpus resulted in the Texas governor sending a strong complaint to the secretary of war and a threat that the state militia would be called out if more troops were not moved.

An echo of all this must have been heard by a band of rebels operating along the border east of here. During last night, whoever stole the horses from the Otto Smith ranch, south of Sierra Blanca, Tex., returned the animals to their pasture on the American side of the river. This report was received here today by Colonel E. Z. Steever, in command at Fort Bliss. Colonel Steever believes the two horses were all that was stolen from the American side during the recent visit to the border of a band of 200 rebels moving toward Juarez.

The posse of Sheriff P. J. Edwards, which left Friday to pursue the supposed invaders of American soil, returned here today, after riding over much of the distance between Sierra Blanca and El Paso. They reported that no intruders had been sighted. General disgust and fatigue characterized the finale of the expedition. However, Colonel Steever intends to retain on duty the two cavalry troops and two infantry companies, for a few days at least, merely as a precautionary measure.

Federals Pressing Rebel Troops Hard

JUAREZ, Mex., Aug. 11.—A report was received here tonight that two trains of federal troops have arrived at Pearson, southwest of here. It is believed that the troops are of the command of General Antonio Rabago, who is pressing into rebel territory from Madera. The Mexican North-western railroad between Pearson and here is destroyed for many miles preparatory to federal intrusion. The arrival of Rabago's forces at Pearson will practically form a junction with the federal army under General Sanchez, which has been holding off the rebel leader Inoz Salazar and his 1,000 men. With the Juarez garrison strengthened, General Orozco is calmly awaiting developments to the south.

DAMAGED BATTLESHIP WILL BE DRY DOCKED AT BOSTON

ROCKPORT, Mass., Aug. 11.—The battleship Nebraska arrived here today after having been damaged slightly Thursday by running on an uncharted shoal near Point Judith. The Nebraska will go to Boston Wednesday to dry dock for thorough examination.

The battleship went on the shoal on an even keel and scraped over several rocks. One bottom plate was started a few inches and a compartment was leaking after the accident, but an examination by divers disclosed that the damage was slight. The Missouri accompanied the Nebraska to this harbor.

Although the place the Nebraska struck is not shown on recent charts, it was indicated on others as far back as 1839. Later the mark was believed to be a mistake and taken off the new charts. The shoal consists of large boulders extending over an acre of sea bottom and is covered by 20 feet of water.

NORMAL TEMPERATURES IN ROCKIES THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Moderately warm weather over the great central valleys, the lake region and the eastern and southern states is promised by the weather bureau during the coming week. Normal temperatures are probable on the Pacific slope and in the Rocky Mountain region. The precipitation during the week will be generally light and moderately fair weather will be the rule.

WOMAN MAKES FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Jane Wildman, best on becoming a professional aviatrix, made her initial flight this afternoon on the Alameda military airway, from this city. She rose 2,000 feet and circled over the city of Oakland before descending. She was accompanied by Roy Francis, an aviator. The aviatrix is the wife of Frederick Collins Wildman of Philadelphia, who is present in London.

WANT WAR AGAINST TURKEY

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 11.—The excitement of the Bulgarian people over the massacre of Bulgarians by Muselmans at Kotschana, 30 miles southwest of Uskup, August 2, continues without abatement. The Bulgarian press is clamoring for war against Turkey.

SIERRA POET'S FAMILY SPLIT BY POLITICS

The family of Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras, has been broken into three political factions over the respective merits of the 1912 presidential candidates. Miller, a Democrat, does not hesitate to declare he will vote for every name appearing under the black star. Mrs. Miller is a Republican of the Taft school, while Mrs. Miller, their daughter, has proclaimed herself an ardent admirer of Colonel Roosevelt.

STABS HUSBAND TO DEATH AFTER SERIES QUARRELS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 11.—Otto Fiechtl is dead from a knife wound, and Mrs. Fiechtl, his wife, is under arrest today on a charge of murder. Fiechtl is said to belong to a family of professional singers in Minneapolis. According to the woman the couple spent practically all last night in quarrels and reconciliations. In the final quarrel, she said, Fiechtl crowded her to the wall, slapping and striking her with his fist. Then she said, to save herself from further punishment, she seized a pair of scissors which was hanging on the wall and lunged at Fiechtl, driving the blade straight through his heart.

MRS. ADAMS VICTIM

buried in Riverside, Denver. As far as can be learned, an aunt, Mrs. E. A. Leavenworth of New Haven, Conn., is the nearest relative, and she has been notified of the death.

Mrs. Adams was with The Gazette for about 10 years, and before her arrival here was connected with a Denver paper. She was actively identified with the work of the women's clubs, and was an energetic worker in the interests of musical and literary clubs, the hospitals and churches.

Whereabouts of Mrs. E. K. Boggess Still Unknown

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Detectives, who have been searching a week for Mrs. Elsie Boggess, wife of Dr. John S. Boggess, assistant superintendent of the United States Marine hospital at Chicago, today watched without result all trains that arrived from Denver.

Dispatches from Denver Saturday said a woman believed to be Mrs. Boggess had left that city for Chicago.

Tonight, the police received word from T. J. Keating of Columbus, O., father of the missing woman, that he had investigated the Denver reports that Mrs. Boggess was in that city last Friday and found them untrue. The dispatch received from Mr. Keating follows:

"Denver, Colo.—Clew false. Signature of hotel register not hers."

Mrs. Boggess, who had been in ill health for some time, has been missing since August 2, when she eluded a trained nurse who had been engaged to watch her.

UNABLE TO SWIM MUST WATCH BROTHER DROWN

DENVER, Aug. 11.—Unable to swim, Michael Sullivan was forced to stand on the shore of a small lake eight miles from Denver this morning and watch his brother John drown. The brother had remained at the lake Saturday night fishing. Although John could swim, he was strangled while about 20 feet from shore. His brother attempted to effect a rescue, but before he could reach a boat to row to the spot where the boy went under it was too late. The body was recovered.

FIRE DESTROYS FACTORY

NEW IBERIA, La., Aug. 11.—Fire tonight practically destroyed the plant of the Sogren Sugar company, near here. The estimated loss is $500,000.

OLYMPIC HEROES RETURN

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The return of the American Olympic heroes by installment was nearly completed today, when the intrepid New York freighter Ralph Brock, the last carrier of California, "Duke" Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian swimmer, P. G. Gertner of San Francisco, Martin W. Hawkins of Portland, Ore., and Walter McClure of San Francisco.

STATE WILL HAVE TWO FIGHTS ON LABOR DAY

DENVER, Aug. 11.—Local fight fans are showing keen interest in two forthcoming boxing bouts to be staged in Colorado Labor day. Tommy Ryan of San Francisco will meet Mike Malone of Denver in a 20-round go at Victor. They are lightweights. Jack Buttrey of San Francisco and Charles Pierson of Denver, welterweights, have agreed to box 20 rounds at Silverton, Colo. Both bouts will be the feature events of Labor day festivities.

WOLGAST TO MEET PACKEY IN NEW YORK, OCTOBER 31

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Ad Wolgast and Packey McFarland will meet in a 10-round bout under the auspices of the Garden Athletic club in New York, October 31, according to word received today from a representative of the eastern club at Cadillac, Mich. Both men are to weigh 135 at 8 o'clock, according to the terms of the match.

SCHEPPS, ARRESTED in Rosenthal Case to Return to N.Y.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 11.—"I am ready to go back to New York without any qualification or without fighting the case," said Sam Schepps, under arrest here for alleged complicity in the murder of Herman Rosenthal in New York, tonight. "But I want to know that everything is all right."

"I am the key-note to the situation in New York, and if they want me to treat the district attorney's office right, they will have to treat me right."

Schepps said that he had not decided whether he would join with Rose, Vallon and Webber in a confession. The alleged go-between added that he would make up his mind on that question while on the way east.

He will refuse to talk further, he declared, here on the way to New York. Before he talks, he said, he wants to go over the situation with Rose, Webber, Vallon and District Attorney Whitman. Then, if he has a statement to make, he added, it will be given first hand to the district attorney.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The arrest of Sam Schepps in Hot Springs, has given a new impetus to the Rosenthal case. It is considered the most important development since the confessions of Jack Rose and Bridget Webber led to the indictment of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker as the alleged instigator of the murder.

One of the most interesting features in connection with the arrest of Schepps is that the police here appear to have had no hand in the murder. Schepps, it is charged, was in the conspiracy to murder Rosenthal, rode in the automobile to and from the scene and paid off the gangsters after they had completed their work.

It was said that Schepps was furnished with $1,000 for this purpose. This sum is supposed to have been divided among "Dago" Frank, "Whitey" Lewis, "Lefty" Lodie and "Gyp" the blood-cherry blowitz. The capture of Schepps leaves but two members still at large, "Lefty" Lodie and "Gyp" the blood-cherry blowitz.

FORECASTS DATES OF COAST DISTURBANCES

SAN PEDRO CRUZ, Aug. 11.—An independent rediscovers, "that the invisible agency connecting heaven to earth is electromagnetism," was announced today by the Rev. J. S. Rickard, in charge of the observatory at the University of Santa Clara, who recently made public a method of forecasting the weather from sun spots. Father Rickard also gave out today a list of dates of disturbances for the Pacific coast up to the end of the first week of September. The dates are: August 14, to 17, August 21, to 24, August 27 to 31, and September 3, to 6.

According to Father Rickard, the Pacific coast disturbances forecasted will cross to the Atlantic states and plunge into the Atlantic ocean.

"A brand new feature of our forecasting," the statement continues, "is that, even though a solar storm vanishes entirely from sight, and no telescope in existence can reach it, yet, by following its dying traces right around the parallels of solar latitude, and applying our solar spot single artificial formula, the same results are obtained as when a spot in the full vigor of life crosses the invisible hemisphere. No better proof than this, we think, can be given that the invisible agency connecting heaven to earth is electromagnetism. This, then, constitutes an independent rediscovers, that sun spots have an intense and immense magnetic field, including the earth, in their powerful grasp, and even reaching beyond Neptunean regions, a conclusion arrived at by actual experiments made on Mount Wilson and at Pasadena, under the direction of George E. Hale."

STEAMERS COLLIDE

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, Aug. 11.—The North German-Lloyd steamer Frankfurt, bound for Canada, from Bremen, with 1,200 passengers on board, collided with the German steamer Bremen, from Rotterdam, for Bremen, while off the Hook of Holland lightship, and is now proceeding to the Hook under tow.

Wireless dispatches received at Scheveningen tonight from the Frankfurt say all her passengers are on board, and the vessel is in no danger. The timely arrival of two steamers calmed the passengers after the collision, and the disabled vessel was taken in tow.

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands, Aug. 11.—The German steamer Bremen, bound back into this port tonight in a damaged condition as the result of a collision with the Frankfurt. The vessel's foremast was crushed in, and the forward compartments were full of water.

SITUATION IMPROVING

LONDON, Aug. 12.—No news has been received here as to whether the renewed fighting on the Turkish-Montenegrin frontier is serious. It probably is in defiance of orders from the two capitals, for activities from Constantinople continue to describe the situation as improving.

The extreme rigor of martial law at the Turkish capital has been relaxed. Developments growing out of the meetings of the committee of union and progress are reported from Subaili.

The Times correspondent at Sofia telegraphs that the Bulgarian government has decided to maintain friendly relations with Turkey, in the hope that the port will make reparation for the massacre of Bulgarians by Muselmans at Kotschana.

KNOX TO VISIT JAPAN

TOKIO, Aug. 11.—The announcement of plans for the coming of Secretary Knox from Washington to attend the funeral of Emperor Meiji, on September 12, is received by leading Japanese newspapers, with expressions of appreciation. Articles in today's journals voice a note of friendship in connection with Mr. Knox's projected visit.

Prince Katsura, former premier, who again to Europe was cut short by the death of the emperor, has returned to Japan to be present at the funeral.

IDENTIFY MURDERED MAN

MILWAUKEE, S. D., Aug. 11.—The man whose body was found on top of "Maid" car of westbound passenger train No. 2 on the Chicago-Milwaukee & St. Paul, where it had been murdered, Saturday, was identified tonight as Martin Nelson, of Vasa, Colo. The dead man was identified by two hawkeyes, hands, as one of a trio who, they claim, held them up and robbed them.

FREE LEGAL AID FOR COLORADO SPRINGS

"THE Free Legal Aid Society of Colorado Springs" was organized last Thursday. As stated in its articles of incorporation, "The objects and purposes of said society are to benefit those otherwise unable to secure legal assistance." Eight well-known lawyers have promised to give their services gratuitously to such persons as are in need of free legal assistance and who apply for such assistance through the secretary of the Associated Charities, who has his office in the Hageman building.

A precedent for this form of public service is found in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and several other cities where the "poor man's lawyer," supported by a private charitable society, has already become an established institution, and in Kansas City, where the advanced step of maintaining a legal aid bureau as a regular part of its city administration has recently been taken.

It is expected that the greater usefulness of such service lies in the treatment of civil rather than criminal cases. In the latter class of cases an attorney may be assigned the defendant by the court, if necessary, without cost. However, in civil cases both complainant and defendant must provide their own counsel.

ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE NEED FOR LEGAL AID.

The following cases illustrate the class of evils that a free legal aid society attempts to remedy.

The first is taken from the records of the New York Legal Aid Society:

"Take the case of a Polish coal shoveler, who was rather ignorant and could speak but little English. His shoulder and leg were injured by the fall of a hatch cover from the deck of a coal barge while he was at work in the hold. A claim agent, after repeated efforts, secured the case for a lawyer, for whom he regularly solicited accident cases. The lawyer brought suit for $1,000 damages and, one month after the accident, settled for $75, one-half of which he took as his fee. In this instance, the circumstances of the accident showed that the employer was directly liable and, had the workman known of his legal rights and employed reputable counsel, he could have procured a much better settlement.

The second and third cases are taken from Milwaukee:

"Two were loan shark cases, one where a man had borrowed $200 to pay for burying his baby, an only child. He had paid $2.85 for eight months on the loan, or a total of $22.80, and the loan company was demanding four additional payments, or interest at 20 per cent. The legal rate of interest is 10 per cent.

"A workman who had always borne a good reputation was arrested for stealing. The complainant, a woman, declared that he had picked up a pocketbook which she had dropped in the street. The man's wife consulted a prominent attorney, who refused to take the case for less than $200. The wife paid over this amount by obtaining a loan on the $600 which man and wife by dint of much saving had paid in part on their home. The workman was discharged in court in a few days' time and the lawyer has since demanded another $100 for his services."

CHANGES IN THE HIGH SCHOOL CURRICULUM

CERTAIN criticisms have been made of the educational system of the United States in general and of high school courses in particular. Some of these criticisms are that high schools give too many courses that are not related to a particular end, "smattering" courses that high schools do not give sufficient attention to manual training and commercial courses that high schools arrange their courses with the very small percentage of students who are preparing for college. It is admitted on all sides that there is a great deal of truth in these criticisms.

The Superintendent of Schools and the Board of Education of Colorado Springs are among those who recognize that the criticisms of public school education are well advised. They have already introduced certain changes to meet the criticisms and they intend to make further changes as it becomes possible.

At present 16 units are required for graduation, eight of which may be elected, with the approval of the principal, and eight units are specified as follows: English (3½), Mathematics (2½), Science (1), History (1). Courses in manual training and domestic art are to be added to the curriculum this year. In connection with the latter courses there will be instruction in mechanical drawing, free-hand drawing, and art and crafts under a suitable teacher.

In making these changes the Board of Education hopes to offer training that will be better suited to the individual needs of the students and that will enable those students who wish to prepare for a definite line of work an opportunity to do so. The willingness of the Board of Education to change the courses offered as experience proves desirable is to be commended.

PROSPERITY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
That there is general prosperity in the Philippines this year, in spite of the fact that most of the far east is suffering from industrial depression, is the highly satisfactory report made by Consul-General Anderson at Hongkong. This condition is not confined to the more settled parts of the islands, but is noted also, and in a special degree, in the Moro country. Shows the advantages of peace and prosperity, the Moros, although still largely savage or half-civilized, have not been slow to profit by the aid offered them by the American administrators. Altogether the American occupation of the Philippines seems to be accomplishing very good results.

TRYING TO BUST TRUSTS.

From the Chicago Tribune.
Standard Oil sold yesterday for $1000 a share. When Standard Oil was dissolved a few months ago it sold for $675.

And yet the two old political parties in their platforms solemnly repeat their twenty year old pledges to bust the trusts.

We hope the Bull Moose party, about to meet, will have the courage not to peddle out this same old buncombe of busting the trusts.

In the first place, it isn't possible to bust the trusts as should be fairly evident by now, in the second place, it isn't desirable for the nation while tasks which they now perform would be done more slowly, clumsily, and wastefully by a return to the old method of small competing companies.

The thing to do with the trusts is not to bust them but to harness them, bring them under national and state control. Whatever their nominal names, and their nominal home is usually New Jersey, they are national institutions, operating throughout the nation. They should, therefore, be supervised by national authorities.

In this way the whole people will share in the benefits of the trust enterprises, and those benefits will no longer be reserved exclusively for trust stockholders.

THE OLDEST MAN.

From the New York Tribune.
Despite the fact that official investigation is said to have fully established the truth of the story from church records, many well-to-do persons doubt whether the late Jose, a Spaniard of Toluca, Mexico, was really 117 years old. There may be nothing intrinsically impossible in it. Some reputable authorities do concede that a person might endure to such an age. Yet the probabilities of error in this story are very great. Doubtless there is a record of the birth of the Spaniard of a child named Jose, a Spaniard, 150 years ago. But much circumstance and detail would be required to prove that this was he and that this oldest man in the world was not perhaps unwittingly identified with one who died 100 years ago.

It is, however, the story is true, Calverley, head of the club which has given to Flint, judged, he was one of the oldest men of the world of his time, but he was also the oldest of whom there is record for antiquity since the dawn of time before his birth, and his age was, in fact, ascribed to that of only one since the days of the Patriarchs. That one was Peter Terfing, of Zernow, of Korbach, Hungary, who is said to have died at the age of 135 just three years before this Mexican veteran was born. The oldest man before him was Henry Jenkins of Yorkshire, England, who died in 1679 at the reputed age of 169, while his predecessor in the distinction was the famous "Old" Thomas Durr of Shropshire, who died in 1625 at the age of 162. In the United States the greatest records of longevity are those of Betsy Brantingham who died in Tennessee in 1834, aged 164; Solomon Smith who died in South Carolina in 1829, aged 142; and Henry Francis, who died at Millersville, N. Y., in 1820 at 141. These three were born respectively in Germany, England and France, and the records of their births in those countries were kept up by individuals.

Those who have had occasion to search out records of the old people know how great are the possibilities of error, either by the recorder or by the doubting and transcribing of them. This chronic error was acknowledged by Dr. Worcester, the biographer, who made a catalog of the cases which he has cited and many others, and while he is inclined to the belief that the dates and ages given were correct he conceded the possibility of error. Since his day the latter view has been strengthened, and there is much skepticism even concerning the age of "Old" Peter, whose case has been regarded as the best authenticated of extreme longevity.

PROTECTING THE SMALL INVESTOR.

From the Kansas City Star.
Legions of the American people through quick-witted swindlers, using the mails amounted to $120,000,000 in the past year. That is the official estimate announced by the postmaster general. More than one thousand swindlers were arrested by postoffice inspectors, nearly half of whom were convicted and sentenced. Most of the others are awaiting the disposition of their cases.

It is a pitiful record, because most of the victims were persons who trusted their savings to men who in most cases deliberately set out to rob the faithful, by plausible misrepresentations. The postoffice department is doing a good work in endeavoring to suppress these swindlers, but the funds cannot be entirely prevented until every state passes a law and enforces it. Under the "Blue Sky" law of Kansas, that statute requires the approval of a state official or bureau before stocks or bonds for any project may be sold in the state. Supplemented to such a law, to make it effective, enlightenment for the small investor is necessary, so that he may know better than to trust a man who is an entrepreneur, that does not have a good record of successful enterprises.

The Kansas City Star says that the state has a money market. It says that the state has a money market in ten thousand dollars in state treasury money.

to a stranger offering large returns over turns out to be anything but a swindle.

The man who asks investments in a really convincing manner, always eager to solve every possible assurance of his honesty and good intentions by publicity of his plans and by inducements from reputable sources.

There are plenty of opportunities for the small investor to place his money where it will be safe and will yield a fair return. The business of selling stocks and bonds is becoming better organized and on a stiffer basis every year. The business and rapidly increasing volume of securities resulting from the incorporation of various trades and industries makes it necessary that the public should be protected from swindles by means of effective governmental supervision and regulation, and by a strict insistence that actual value shall be back of all securities purporting to represent value.

AN INTERESTING REPORT.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.
Washington, Aug. 12.—The Mexican government hopes to take advantage of the passage of Senator Nelson's resolution for inquiry into whether any Americans have been engaged in fomenting revolutions in the Latin republics to offer evidence in its possession showing just what American influence were behind the recent revolt in that country.

The Mexican administration has such evidence on the American people will be glad to hear it. They have long expected as much. A thorough exposure at this time may avert future embassies in Latin revolutions inspired and abetted by the same interests. The United States has been put to a great deal of expense and annoyance by these recurring disturbances in Mexico and Central America. If American interests have in any way been responsible for these eruptions it ought to be known. Officially and as a nation we have exerted ourselves to the utmost to preserve neutrality. Yet these efforts have almost been set at naught, it is intimated, by the self-interested intermeddling of Americans.

The Mexican rumor may be baseless. The Mexican government may not have the evidence, but if there has been such American influence at work Mexico should be in position to know it. His experience in his own revolution overthrowing Diaz might have given him the information. But it is not likely the senate committee will find any evidence on that included among that submitted, if any is offered.

Humble Pie Usury

By RUTH CAMERON.

To be usurious and to exact more than one's just debt in a money matter is a legal crime.

Everyone knows that.

But how many people I wonder, realize that to exact more than one's just return in other kinds of money is a moral crime. I am thinking especially of the people who demand more than their due payment in such of humbly pie for services which they have rendered.

Do you wrap my napkins?

Well then, let me be generous. Say you are fortunate enough to have a friend and your friend is unfortunate enough to have a friend. Say you are fortunate enough to have a friend and your friend is unfortunate enough to have a friend. Say you are fortunate enough to have a friend and your friend is unfortunate enough to have a friend.

Now as soon as she comes to this conclusion she tactfully asks your pardon by being exceedingly nice to you. She brings you some interesting bit of information which she thinks you will enjoy. She offers to do some little service for you. She makes a point of admiring some possession of yours. And all in vain. Under the guise of all her handiwork you could refuse to yield. You have a reverence and you will not give it up until you have your pound of humble pie.

Being human, she finds it much harder to say, "I was wrong, I am sorry," than to act it. But finally she serves her purpose to the sticking point and speaks out her apology.

Of course it hurts her the words stick coming up and the humble pie sticks going down, but then, perhaps she deserves some hurt in return for the hurt she gave. That is her just explanation.

But as soon as she has done this she has put the burden of healing the misunderstanding on your shoulders. It is your turn to act now. If you had forgiven her after her first apology you would have been merciful. But you weren't that. Now if you forgive her you will simply be just. But if you fail to forgive you will be both unmerciful and unjust. You will be exacting more than your due payment for your cherished grievance in terms of humble pie. The burden of wrong has passed from her shoulders to yours.

Again and again I have seen breaches which were very hard to close opened in this way between dear friends and even between members of a family.

It is, and by the way, it is a mistake and tries to make it up, but by this time the original offender has found that he has a grievance in the injustice of his friend and there are two raw spots to be healed.

It is a very fine thing to be merciful in such matters, to be good enough to accept the first real apology. But even those of us who are not fair enough to be merciful can surely be just. And let's not forget that when we fail to be just at once take the burden of wrong on our own shoulders and become strangers instead of friends.

And truly it is much pleasanter to be sincere and to be just.

NO. 2-DAGUERRE

The older members of most families have in their possession treasured daguerreotypes—likenesses of old relatives—which they value beyond price, and which have been handed down from one generation to another for the sentiment attached to them. These old pictures have a softness and delicacy that holds the attention even in these days of advanced methods of photography.

Daguerre, whose name is thus preserved in the history of scientific work, was a painter and physician. His tastes led him strongly to artistic effort, so he went to Paris and took up interior decoration, especially in theaters, and the painting of scenery for high-class productions.

He finally invented what he called the "daguerreotype." It was a panorama painted on the stage of a theater. He had an excellent building erected by an excellent architect named Chatelet, which would seat 300 persons.

He painted careful and correct panoramas of Naples, London, Jerusalem and Athens, and from 1822 to 1839, the daguerreotype was the rage and the people were in raptures over it. The lights were so arranged that there was an admirable perspective. He was at work upon a panorama of Rome, and had just finished the interior of the Basilica of Santa Maria Maggiore, when the daguerreotype look fire, and was totally destroyed, March 3, 1839.

For a long time he had been working out ideas in regard to fixing the images developed in the dark room. In 1826, Chevalier, a famous politician, had introduced Daguerre to Joseph Niepore, who had been since 1814 making experiments along this same line.

Joseph Niepore was born in Chalons-sur-Saone, and was a man of some property and with distinct ability as a scientist. What he sought to do was to fix the images of the camera obscura as nature presented them.

Wedgwood and Sir Humphrey Davy had also studied methods for this, but it was really Niepore who invented the process, although Daguerre had been closely associated with him in his experiments.

Niepore died in 1823, and Daguerre continued to work at the perfecting of their process till in 1839 the result of their experiments was given to the world.

It aroused the greatest enthusiasm. The scientist Arago spoke of it at the Academy of Sciences and asked the government to recognize Daguerre for his valuable discovery.

So Daguerre was made an officer of the Legion of Honor, and the same day in the chamber of deputies an order was introduced to pay a pension of 10,000 francs to the inventors—5,000 francs to Daguerre and 4,000 to Niepore, Niepore, the son of Niepore.

The matter of this pension was settled August 2, 1839, and August 10 Arago gave a full report of the details involved in this important discovery.

Joseph Niepore had argued that the name of the process should be in honor of Daguerre, so that daguerreotype became fashionable. It is said that the emperor of Russia offered Daguerre 500,000 francs for his secret.

A year after Arago's statement of details to the academy, a large firm of men started in Paris as daguerreotypes. They sold for 1850 francs, were 10,000 at work on the process in the United States.

Among the valuable things to see in the British museum at London are some of Niepore's pictures taken while making his various experiments. Dr. Draper of the university of New York was the first person to secure portraits from the life by using the Daguerre process with enlarged lenses.

TOMORROW—JUDGE JESSE FELL

André Correspondence Fall Mail Gazette.

The mantilla has suddenly regained its old prestige in Spain. It had been ousted for a time by the Paris hat, but Spanish ladies have returned to the idea that nothing can be more graceful or becoming to them than their national headgear.

All types of beauty, although differing as entirely from one another, have certain common traits marking them as Spaniards, and to such the mantilla is eminently suitable.

The headress is looked on in Spain as the most important item in a woman's appearance, and this is not confined to class only. The poorest Spanish woman will invariably have tresses elaborately arranged, and however worn her garments she will find it a necessity to spend a few pence in paying for the services of the indispensable peinadora.

These artists are a feature of Madrid life, and it is difficult to imagine what would happen if they were to go on strike, for as a rule no woman of any standing would dream of attempting to do her own hair.

The peinadora works deftly and has the necessary virtue of punctuality, for her clientele is numerous, and she must finish her work with each before midday. It is natural that she should play an important role in social life, and many love matches reach a happy conclusion owing to her good offices.

INVENTS THE UNSINKABLE SUIT

From the Chicago News.

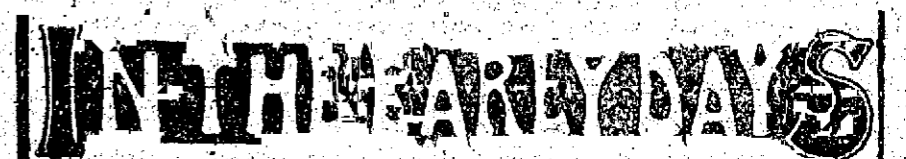

Leon Rouce, a French inventor, is attracting much attention, according to dispatches from New York, with an unsinkable suit, which he claims will make it impossible for its wearer to drown. He claims to have aviators and motorboat operators wear the suits.

Rouce declares that the feet and head of persons wearing his contrivance will remain out of water and keep them afloat until rescued, should they be shipwrecked or meet with an accident while at sea.

The suit is made of a material he calls "pneumatic cloth." He demonstrated its properties by being in the water and reading a newspaper.

The best gift for a man is an Arts and Crafts fob, set with a Colorado stone. $1.00 to $5.00 each.

HARDY'S 16 N. Tejon

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 12, 1882.

A man named Holtske committed suicide by throwing himself in front of a D. & R. G. train at the crossing just east of Manitou.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Humphrey returned from an eastern trip.

A butcher shop just north of The Gazette office (which was then in the old building on the northeast corner of Tejon and Huertano streets) was entered by burglars and a small sum of money taken from the cash drawer.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 12, 1892.

The first car of melons from Rocky Ford arrived in town. They were fully ripe and very fine flavored.

A special entertainment was given at the Broadmoor casino. There were boat races for both ladies and gentlemen on the lake, as well as other sports.

E. S. Bunsiead & Co. were awarded the contract for putting the plumbing and heating pipes in the El Paso Bank building, which was then under construction. The consideration was $4,687.

The street committee of the city council secured a lot of the old pews from the Presbyterian church and placed them at various points about the corner of Pikes Peak avenue and Tejon street. They were much appreciated by the tourists.

RESTRICT SALE OF OPIATES.

The organized retail druggists are actively working to secure the passage of laws restricting the sale of harmful drugs. In Kentucky, where there is an attendant on duty day and night to fill prescriptions, there is not sufficient night business to pay the salary of the clerk; and yet, in some towns, there will be half a dozen drug stores open within the radius of a short walk, and all of them together will not have night trade enough to keep one clerk busy.

As the month of August is one of the quietest in the retail drug business, it is the time selected for the annual conventions of the organized drug dispensers, who, by a comparison of experiences, each year secure new ideas for the development of their specific line of trade. The National Association of Retail Druggists is meeting in Milwaukee today. A large proportion of the retail druggists belong also to the American Pharmaceutical association, which will meet in Denver next week, and there will be sufficient time after the adjournment of the Milwaukee meeting for those who wish to make the trip to Denver comfortably in time for the opening of the convention of pharmacists.

There are a number of important matters to be considered by each of these bodies. The elevation of the standards of the profession is a matter which both are trying to promote. Then there comes up the problem of the hours for drug clerks, and the possibility of having a drug store closed after reasonable trade hours. The adoption of some system of price protection will also come up, as this is especially a field in which the association of Retail Druggists has been working lately.

HIGHER STANDARDS FOR PHARMACISTS.

Higher standards for pharmacists and drug dispensers are being urged in the different states. Louisiana has adopted a recommendation to its legislative committee that the graduate prerequisites be approved and that a bill enforcing it be introduced into the state legislature. In New Jersey, such a bill has been introduced by the schools of pharmacy, but was defeated last year for some outside reasons, which, it is believed, will be overcome when the bill is again presented. In New York, the pharmacy council of the board of regents has passed a resolution recommending that the degree of pharmacy be conferred only after the completion of three years' resident work, subsequent to the attainment of the degree, bachelor of pharmacy. This decision, if it can be carried through, will practically place the degree of doctor of pharmacy upon the same basis as doctor of medicine. This is much more work than has been required by most other schools, and it is not certain that the board of regents of New York will be able to carry their decision through, although the influence of this attempt will be widely felt. In Pennsylvania, the new bureau of professional education, established by law at the last session of the legislature, has determined upon a complete high school course or its equivalent for license to practice pharmacy. In accordance with this, the state pharmaceutical examining board has adopted the rule that applicants for the license of assistant pharmacists, matriculating after July, 1912, must have a certificate of preliminary education issued by the bureau of education. In Missouri, a similar requirement is made.

MUST BE COLLEGE MEN.

The state of Washington has gone still further. The board of pharmacy of that state has declared that after July 1, 1913, all applicants for registered pharmacist must have completed one year of work in a college of pharmacy recognized by the board, and, after July, 1914, this requirement will be advanced, to full graduation from a college embracing at least a two-year course. The particular colleges to be recognized are the two state schools of pharmacy and such other schools and colleges as hold membership in the American conference of pharmaceutical faculties.

A growing amount of attention is being given to the consideration of some means of lessening the "long hours" of the drug store. The fact that the druggist has as much right to recreation and rest as other tradesmen is being recognized, and the means of securing it are now under discussion both in England and America. The plan of keeping one store closed on a holiday on a holiday and doing up-to-date hours has been tried in England with some success, and it is now being urged that such a plan can be established only by a mutual agreement among all of the local druggists, and is one of the numerous benefits to be secured by organization. It is generally acknowledged that in most stores, where there is an attendant on duty day and night to fill prescriptions, there is not sufficient night business to pay the salary of the clerk; and yet, in some towns, there will be half a dozen drug stores open within the radius of a short walk, and all of them together will not have night trade enough to keep one clerk busy.

MOST STORES HAVE SIDELINES.

With the large competition from the numerous drug stores to be found in most localities, the sale of drugs is really only a minor feature in the average drug store. Numerous sidelines are well calculated to draw the public. There are few drug stores without a soda fountain, which, naturally, is the Mecca for the young people of the community. Since the automobile has come into prominence, an up-to-date drug store on a frequented route draws much trade from autoists, who stop for sodas and other refreshments, and in most stores cigars are also sold. Confectionery has become almost a staple line in a well-equipped drug store, while toilet articles, the stationery and surgical supplies are natural, if expected. A druggist in a western town conceived the idea of adding hosiery as a sideline, with good result. He did it first by providing woolen stockings for rheumatic customers, and finally added a full line of all kinds for men, women and children.

A circulating library is an attraction in many drug stores and, no doubt, serves as a good trade drawer. Many conservative druggists who object to these side lines claim that it is lowering the dignity of a certified profession to put a graduate pharmacist at a sales counter that could be handled by a school boy, but the conservatives are in the minority, and it is the druggist that caters most to the public who usually enjoys the largest patronage, and his efforts from his side line usually permit him to carry the fullest assortment of fresh drugs.

Many Peculiar Orders.

The requests and orders for drugs which come into the average drug store are often very peculiar.

BATHS OF RED MALVOISIE

From the London Standard.

It is a little often that the citizens of London are reminded of the existence of the baths of red Malvoisie, but the fact is that the baths of red Malvoisie are one of the most famous and health giving of the world. The baths of red Malvoisie are situated in the heart of the city of London, and are one of the most famous and health giving of the world. The baths of red Malvoisie are situated in the heart of the city of London, and are one of the most famous and health giving of the world.

FAIRS FOR THE MARRIAGEABLE

From the London Chronicle.

In London once every year a fair of marriageable girls is held. The girls with their relations, gets into a wagon which contains her dowry—furniture, and household matters—and off she goes for the fair. When they arrive the girls are drawn up in a line, and the men in another wagon, with their parents behind them. Then a young man takes the looks of the girls, and goes up to them and enters into conversation with them, while his parents and their relations look on.

MANY AUTOISTS WILL TOUR U. S. TO BIG FAIR

Thousands of eastern auto owners are planning a cross country trip to the international exposition in San Diego in 1915 and surely will make the journey if the intercontinental highways are in good shape. One of the best good roads poems ever written was read by President Johnson at the good roads convention in Pueblo last winter. The author is unknown. The poem follows:

LIKE CAESAR DID

When Caesar took an eastward ride and knibbed the Gauls of Rome. What was the first thing that he did to make them feel at home? Did he increase the people's loads and heavily forbid? No, he dug in and built good roads. That's what old Caesar did.

He built good roads from hill to hill good roads from vale to vale. He ran a good roads movement until old Rome got all the kale. He told the folks to buy a home build roads then hills amid.

Until all roads led up to Rome—that's what old Caesar did.

If any town would make that town the center of the map. What folks will come and settle down and live in plenty's lap. If any town its own rhodes of poverty would bid. Let it go out and build good roads—just like old Caesar did.

STREET PERILS IN ENGLAND

Consul General John L. Griffiths London.

The statistics of street accidents in the United Kingdom during the calendar year 1911 shows how rapidly mechanically driven vehicles are being introduced into the country. The accidents in 1911 fatal and non-fatal aggregated 35,210 as compared with 31,077 in 1910. There were 1,557 fatal street accidents last year, of which 884 were caused by horse drawn vehicles and 673 by those which were mechanically propelled. The number of fatal accidents in 1910 was 1,327. Horse-drawn vehicles were responsible for 655 of such accidents and mechanically driven vehicles for 672.

A far greater number of accidents, not resulting in death were due to horse drawn vehicles. Of this a total of 11,652 non-fatal accidents, 15,427 were due to horse-drawn vehicles and 20,226 to mechanically drawn vehicles. In 1910 the respective figures were 10,622 and 16,128 which shows that there were fewer non fatal accidents in 1911 caused by horse drawn vehicles than in 1910, but a very large increase in those caused by mechanically driven vehicles.

FOUND A MINE OF TREES

From Harper's Weekly.

Mines of wood are found in the south of Russia where they were discovered very recently when the bed of a river was dug. Not very deep in the earth but covering an extent of 200 square kilometers, a forest of oaks was found where it had been buried by some unknown avalanche centuries ago. The wood is in perfect preservation. The man who found the enormous forest has drawn from his mine many trunks of trees measuring from 120 to 180 feet high and at least 18 inches in diameter. The mine is worth a fortune for the wood is of the first quality and as a result of its long rest underground it has taken the most varied colors ranging from dark brown to pale rose and running through all the shades of blue and yellow. One hundred and fifty thousand of the ancient oaks have been turned over to the cabinet makers.
